Subject: International Party

Hi, Bob. Our English club is going to have an international party next month. We'd like to invite you and your friends. Many Japanese and foreign people will talk and have fun together. At the party, you can eat various kinds of food from all over the world. I like cooking, and I'm thinking of making something Japanese. Do you like Japanese food? If so, what kind of Japanese food do you like? How about your friends? I want to hear from you and your friends.

Hi, Aya. I'm glad that you invited me and my friends to the party. Today, I told some of my friends about the party. We like Japanese food. I like sushi and tempura. But I haven't had many kinds. One of my friends, Fred, loves Japanese food, and he has tried many dishes. His favorite Japanese food is yakisoba. He ate yakisoba at a summer festival, and it was delicious. Do you know how to cook yakisoba? I'm good at cooking, so I can bring some dishes from my country.

Thank you for your e-mail.
I know how to cook yakisoba, so I'll bring it to the party. I hope Fred will like it! You are from the U.K., so I want to eat your fish and chips. If you can, please bring some. And I have something to ask you. I have a brother, and he will study English in your country next year. He wants to learn about your country. Can you talk with him?
